Comstar Interactive Hires Industry Veteran

September 25, 2006

(South Plainfield, NJ) - Comstar Interactive is pleased to announce the addition of a leading industry veteran, Marc Shultz as Vice President of Business Development. In this role, Marc will be charged with establishing new business partners and product opportunities.

Marc comes to Comstar from Way Systems where as Vice President of Sales he led the successful effort to introduce a cell phone based point of sale terminal and wireless gateway. Prior to working at Way Systems, Marc spent five years as Vice President of Business Development for US Wireless Data, the first wireless gateway service provider to operate in the U.S. Prior to his time at U.S. Wireless Data, Marc served in various sales and management roles at Intellect electronics, where he helped introduce their new wireless POS terminal to the U.S. market, and Diebold, where he sold ATM and POS transaction processing software.

"Joining Comstar gives me a chance to complete the vision first established by U.S. Wireless Data. Comstar's combination of wireless expertise and other payment solutions provides the 'one stop shop' that our customers and partners desire", said Marc Shultz.

"We are very excited to have Marc join Comstar. He brings years of industry experience to our company. We anticipate a prosperous end of year with the release of the Comstar Payment Gateway Plug-In designed to work with QuickBooks®, Marc joining us and the release of Charge Anywhere on the Treo and Pocket PC ", said Paul Sabella, CEO and President of Comstar Interactive.
