

CHARGE Anywhere® and Agilis Systems Partner to Provide PCI Validated Mobile Payments and Mobile Resource Management Integrated Solution

South Plainfield, NJ (October 3, 2008) – CHARGE Anywhere®, a leading provider of secure Point of Sale (POS) solutions and electronic payment services, completed a partnership agreement and integration to enable secure credit card payment functionality on Agilis Systems' software. Agilis, an industry leading Mobile Resource Management (MRM) solutions provider, can now incorporate secure payment functionality as a component of their software offerings to customers.

Agilis's MRM solutions include GPS tracking, mapping, dispatching, route optimization, and real-time data and voice communications for mobile workers. One of the essential tools in conducting business in a mobile environment is the ability to take payment. Now CHARGE Anywhere enabled secure, real-time credit card payment functionality is available within Agilis' solutions portfolio, adding to an ever-expanding set of MRM tools for the mobile workforce.

"We are pleased with the opportunity to extend the benefits of our products to Agilis Systems and their customers. CHARGE Anywhere's robust mobile payments software will allow more consumers choice and security at the point of sale. By implementing our mobility payment solutions, secure database management, PCI compliance, and real-time searching and reporting, CHARGE Anywhere will improve businesses' back office efficiencies, allowing them to collect funds faster, generating more revenue, and streamlining field operations for the mobile worker with the Agilis MRM Solution." says Paul Sabella, President & CEO of CHARGE Anywhere.

"As our toolkit continues to grow, the ability for mobile workers to take payments when using Agilis Systems software further enhances the solutions we offer our customers," says Agilis Systems CEO Dan Huber.

Whenever a mobile workforce is on the road, at a job site, or at the office, their effort can be optimized, tracked, and enabled with advanced tools from Agilis, that now also include secure credit card payments, empowered by CHARGE Anywhere.
