

Electronic Commerce launches EC Pay mPOS Solutions for Android and iOS

June 19, 2019 South Plainfield, NJ –Charge Anywhere has provided a white label mobile payment (mPOS) solution for Electronic Commerce LLC, a leading provider of payment-processing services based in Orange, CA. EC Pay is now available for businesses to download via Google Play Store and Apple® App Store.

"Electronic Commerce works with Farmers Markets in support of America's farmers and to increase access to fresh, nutritious food," noted Darnell Ponder, VP of Client Relations at Electronic Commerce. "With EC Pay mPOS we can better serve this market with mobile electronic payment acceptance equipment, supporting traditional card payment options and a wide range of EBT cards, including Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP cards)."

"We are proud to partner with Electronic Commerce and provide a custom version of our QuickSale mPOS software bundled with our ComsGate Payment Gateway said Paul Sabella, CEO of Charge Anywhere. "Electronic Commerce will save time and money using our automated PIN key injections and remote software updates to easily deploy mPOS solutions and manage their estate of terminals and applications."

About Electronic Commerce (www.ec-processing.com)

Electronic Commerce was founded in 2006 and is one of the fastest growing merchant service companies. With our headquarters based in Orange, California, Electronic Commerce offers transaction authorization, processing, and network services in all 50 states to businesses accepting credit and debit cards for products and services. Providing all of the payment services you'll ever need under one roof with award winning support, state-of-the-art equipment and affordable processing packages – we make credit card acceptance easy.

About Charge Anywhere (www.chargeanywhere.com)

Charge Anywhere is a financial technology solutions company that makes EMV payments simple by enabling the last mile in the payment processing ecosystem. The Company is a leader in mobile payments with an award-winning MPOS/POS platform and payment gateway technology, with services that deliver flexibility and security backed by deep expertise in global implementations. Processors, acquirers, integrators, developers and enterprises leverage our white-label applications to meet P2PE and PCI payment card security standards worldwide. Contact: (800) 211-1256 x150 or sales@chargeanywhere.com